

SRS Clearinghouse

Walking and talking together for our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and families

Sharing good information across the nation

There's so much beautiful and useful information and work happening out there!

Have you or your organisation developed a resource that other child and family services may like to see?

YES / NO / MAYBE

Please describe that resource:

Would you like your resource to be available:

- | | |
|---|------------------|
| 1. For SNAICC library only | YES / NO / MAYBE |
| 2. For SNAICC members only (password protected) | YES / NO / MAYBE |
| 3. For a selection of services only | YES / NO / MAYBE |
| 4. For the general public | YES / NO / MAYBE |
| 5. Not sure / would like to talk more about it | YES / NO / MAYBE |

We will always put your concerns about your resource's copyright safety as our priority – copyright would remain yours. Please tell us what your worries are. (You can think about some of the options as listed below.)

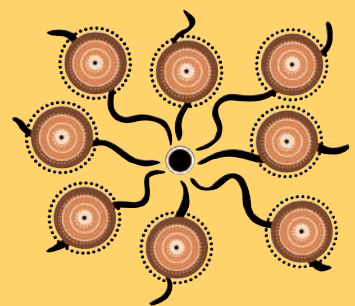

Please tell us your contact details so we can talk over the issues:

What sort of resource would the SRS Clearinghouse like to host?

It may be a poster, recipe or healthy tucker menu, a booklet, game or story, a QA system, a practical management tool, health and wellbeing tips, foster care training materials, a set of guidelines, training resources, IT tips, good governance ideas, maintenance manuals, tips on how to use equipment or how to upgrade equipment, good shopping tips, cleaning tips, staff rewards, roster systems, photo magazine, drawing books, job descriptions, photography tips, good playground equipment ideas, programming ideas, money matters, parenting tips, routines, MoUs, partnership agreements, communication tools between staff, community, parents and children – all resources to help make our child and family service work just that little bit easier.

Some options about how to share your resources through the SRS include:

- Describe & link online: The SRS website to describe your resource in words only and provide a web link or phone number to your service.
- Show thumbnail & link online: The SRS website show a small picture of your resource that cannot be changed or printed in good quality.
- Show full size pdf online: The SRS website show a full-sized copy of your resource that others can print, but not easily change.
- Provide fully editable downloads online: The SRS website have a copy of your resource that others can print and change for their own purposes eg in Word format.
- Reproduce & distribute resource to selected services
- Reproduce & distribute resource to all interested persons
- Store & archive: The SRS to store and record your resource in our library, but not make it available for general access.
